

CENTRAL EUROPEAN INSPIRATION

Gotthardská 25/7
Praha 6 - 160 00

We are a volunteer, non-governmental, non-profit alliance of citizens who share their respect for universal human values, European cultural and spiritual tradition stemming from the heritage which is antique, Judeo-Christian and humanistic. Members of the Association also share the conviction that family is the most important natural structure of the social system.

The main aims of the Association are as follows:

- a) Protecting and strengthening European cultural identity and spiritual tradition
- b) Transmitting fundamental values of European culture to the young generation
- c) Protecting natural family as the most important constituent of society
- d) Increasing the prestige of parenting
- e) Protecting the freedom of thought, conscience and religion in all spheres of social life
- f) Protecting scientific and educational activities from ideological interventions

Activities of the Association include but are limited to:

- a) Raising awareness, publication and educational activities;
- b) Organising conferences, seminars and lectures at the national as well as international levels
- c) Participating in consultation processes and in administrative and other procedures concerning the issues of family, parenting and the freedom of thought, conscience and religion
- d) Communicating with political representatives at the national as well as international levels
- e) Organising campaigns, consultations and petitions
